The Faculty of Commerce and Management has organized a session on “Literature Review”. The objective of the session was to strengthen the concept of how to write proper and comprehensive literature review in research article and research work. The speaker of the session was Dr. Kiran Pandya, Dean – Faculty of Commerce and Management, Uka Taradia University.

Literature Review is a critical and evaluative account of what has been published on a chosen topic of research. Generally, the purpose of a review is to analyse critically a segment of a published body of knowledge through summary, classification, and comparison of prior research studies, reviews of literature, and theoretical articles.

Dr. Pandya has discussed the very important points for writing comprehensive literature review. The points are as follows:

- Checklist of Do’s and Don’ts for reviewing.
- What is literature review?
- Process of literature review.
- Elements of literature review.
- Reasons for doing literature review.
- A good literature review versus poor literature review.

- How to write bibliography?

Apart from that Dr. Pandya has discussed the various points for writing literature review such as

- Rational of the study.
- What questions are examined in the study?
- What are the hypotheses of the study?
- What are the objectives of the study?
- Which methodology used in the study?
- How each variable defined?
- Which are the statistical tools used for analysis?
- How are results interpreted?
- How are conclusions written?
