The BV Patel Institute of Commerce facilitated a community service program, providing students with an opportunity to engage in meaningful social outreach at Primary School located in Tarsadi village. The initiative aimed to provide essential stationary materials such as pencils, erasers, scale and colour to support the academic needs of these students and encourage their learning journey.

Objectives of the Visit

The program had multiple objectives:

1. To create a sense of responsibility and empathy among college students.
2. To provide underprivileged children exposure to creative and educational activities.
3. To promote mutual understanding and build bridges across diverse socio-economic backgrounds.

Activities Conducted

The day was thoughtfully planned with activities to benefit both groups:

1. Interactive Sessions: Students engaged with school children, teaching them essential English vocabulary for everyday communication.
2. Games: Exercise and other games.
3. Distribution of Essentials: The students ended the day on a sweet note, handing out stationery and snacks to the happy school kids.

The day was a fulfilling experience for everyone involved. The schoolchildren displayed great enthusiasm and eagerness to learn, while the college students expressed a sense of accomplishment and deepened empathy. The event not only brightened the day for the children but also provided college students with a new perspective on the importance of community service.
