On 7th August, 2019, “Learning by Design” was organized for I.M.com – semester 3 students in the subject of Financial Management-I. They prepared different learning charts based on ‘Ratio Analysis’. The objective of this activity is to evaluate the student’s learning ability and mind power and it also helps students to remember the different formulas in an easy way. Activity was conducted by Arpita Vyas under the guidance of Dr. Arpana Patel (Director of B.V.Patel Institute of Commerce).
